The class of 1967 dedicates its yearbook to Freedom.

Freedom to explore, experiment and seek explanations and proofs in the process of education and preparation for tomorrow's world.

Freedom to learn, not only by the experiences of the past but the activities of the present and the new paths of the future.

Freedom to speak and communicate the ideas accumulated and to select those most appropriate to the formulation of decisions for the future.

Freedom to share with others through the printed word, such ideas and observations that may effect the welfare and destinies of future generations.

IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its basis on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to institute new Government, laying its basis on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. We, the Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, solemnly publish and declare, that the thirteen united States of America, are freemen and independent States, separated from all political connection with Great Britain, and that all political connection between them and the said Kingdom, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as political connection has been dissolved, all former obligations of honor and fidelity, which bound the Colonies to the said Kingdom, are totally dissolved, and that the Colonies are free and independent States, entitled to all the Rights and Liberties to which freemen are entitled.

MESSAGE

If any single event marks your entrance into the adult world, it is your graduation from high school. Until now you have been guided, counseled, advised and perhaps been controlled a little more than you thought necessary. But whatever path you take from now on, you will be a great deal more on your own than you ever have been in your life. You will face a great many more decisions alone, and you will be responsible for the results of these decisions.

The course of your life will be very much determined by what you do and the decisions you make.

With all respect to your parents and teachers who may have scolded you to quit daydreaming and get to work, I give my advice. Find a dream. But not an idle dream built only of romance and adventure. Imagine a dream with a realistic goal that will build a fire within you. . . . A dream that will create the steam to drive you ahead, to sustain you over the rough spots in life. . . . A dream that will let you fall in love with something important. When you have this dream fixed clearly in your mind, you have taken the first step toward coping successfully with the world.

A WALK IN THE ## DARK FOREST

Rewarding the Juniors for their many hours of strenuous work and planning was a night to be remembered and talked about long afterwards.

Under a sky of hundreds of stars were many romantic as well as breath-taking scenes--a stone wall was the background for several candlelit tables where punch was served from an old-fashioned wishing well--a woodland scene enclosed a mural painting of a water fall forming a stream which flowed under a wooden bridge--the center of the crowning area was a vine-covered swing under a cluster of pine boughs. Depicting a forest scene in the center of the dancing floor and used throughout the gym were many pine trees which were all donated by Mrs. Irene Kovars of Blue River.

Assisting the Juniors with all decorating were their able advisers, Mrs. Ellen Eaton and Mr. Richard Martin.

Chaperoning the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Presenting the Court of Honor to the Prom King and Queen.

Our President, Sandi Dersch, enjoying the Student Council sponsored Christmas party

The student governing body, one of the major organizations of any school, has the responsibility of approving and regulating school activities, informing the administration of the student wishes, promoting good citizenship, and improving student-teacher relation.

In May, of the preceding year, Sandi Dersch was elected council president, as were the other members who include the four class presidents and a representative from each class. Within the eight members, a vice-president, secretary, and treasurer are elected.

Regular council meetings are held every other week, and if necessary, special meetings are called during the week.

Homecoming weekend found the student council busy working in the gym decorating "Autumn Leaves" for the annual Homecoming and Fair Dance.

Cheerleading tryouts, Christmas party, and student elections in the spring are also planned and supervised by the Student Council.

The council sponsored "The Pioneer Statesmen," a group of four boys from Platteville, and other school activities throughout the year.

Dear Tom.

It has been a lot of fun to be in contact with you. I am in the mood to do some of the things you write with me.
I hope I have pleased you.
I have not a lot of fun to tell. I have been very busy and we will be right together this summer and will have a lot of fun.
I hope you will be the same. And I hope to be there to a real mix-up.
